

Librarian's Report

1/6/26

Submitted by: Kim Thomas

11/18/25 roof leak update: We had additional rain over Christmas and New Year's, but no additional water damage in the building. I have not yet heard back from the structural engineer, who I sent pictures of the building plans to on December 11. I heard from Allen Cunningham, the independent claims adjuster on 1/6/25 and he said he would follow up with the claims adjuster from POOL/Davies. I sent a follow-up email to both the structural engineer and claims adjuster on 1/6/26.

Envisionware has shipped part of our order for the reference automation project – the Library Document Station is en route as of 1/6/26. Our IT contractor was off for the holidays, and the coordinator at Envisionware was also unavailable. They will coordinate what needs to be done. The Envisionware representative said they will help get us set up a credit card processor. Envisionware says they will not be able to get the coin and bill acceptor to us until late February.

We had to get a second extension on our financial audit for fiscal year 2025 due to delays with the accountant being able to get what he needs from the county. The extension was granted, and two copies of the audit report must be submitted to the Department of Taxation no later than February 28, 2026.

Youth Services and Reference department heads are continuing work on their certifications. They are taking a wide range of subjects, including collection development (weeding, assessment, maintenance), de-escalation strategies, community relationships, time management, coping with change, communication, and centering community. We have another staff member at circulation who is taking a Basic Spanish for Library Staff class offered for free through the Nevada State Library, Archives, and Public Records.

Both Youth and Reference continue to work on developing their collections. Our Head of Circulation is now set up with a printer and has been shown how to use Apollo to print the call numbers onto the labels rather than hand writing them. I have advised that a volunteer could apply the printed labels rather than doing it herself. My hope is that this saves some time and creates a more uniform appearance. There is an option to order some books with the labels already applied by the vendor, and there won't be an issue with the labels not matching now should we opt into that service. Last summer, we had an intern from vocational rehab, who she told me she had difficulty reading some of the hand-written call numbers, which were written by different staff over the years.

The Youth Services Department is gearing up for February with Blind Date with a Book from February 2-27 and a National Take Your Child to the Library Day event being planned for February 21, 2026.
